"If you build it, they will come... is this heaven... no it's Iowa. An Iowa farmer hears voices and builds a baseball field.

This quote is from a movie entitled, FIELD OF DREAMS in which an Iowa farmer plows down his cornfield so he could play baseball and allow the Chicago Cubs White Sox to play baseball on his cornfield.

Many people ^{would} come ^{would} and pay to see them play. Unlike the movie, we do not want 600 people a day trampling on the trail. If the county had a sense of conscience, it would have sold the land back to the owners.

Maybe if the powers that be would have spent some time living on the lake, smelling the crisp morning air, while enjoying a cup of coffee, that person would have felt as I do. A home should be an idyllic oasis; an escape from outside uncontrollable forces... a Shangri-la. Is this heaven... no it ~~is~~ was Lake Sammamish.
